

Topics discussed:

- Achievements
- Missing components
- Balance of work → make sure everyone works on front and back end
- Visualizations are less important. We should focus on the front and back end for other components first. The community and personal data visualizations can be simple graphs to save time.
- Emphasis on delivering all of our planned concepts
- More ways to flesh out events → add filtering by location, see participants?

Changes discussed:

- Overall good decision to focus on the generative art than the bio-info sharing
- How about we share the generative arts too?
 - We have the possibility to implement repost
 - Maybe an inbox to send the art to a specific user
 - But repost might be a better way to build community, and less time consuming
